Trial Begun in Circuit Court of John C. Gardner.

Trial of the suit of Mrs. Mary Mullen of Peoria to recover $5,000 damages from John C. Gardner of Viola for alleged breach of promise to marry is in progress in the cir-cuit court in Aledo. Mrs. Mullen is 53 years old and her one-time suitor is 74. They mot at Grand Army encampments several times while Mr. Gardner's first wife, who died in 1916, was still alive.

showed Mrs. Mullen marked atten-tion in 1918, and on April 21, 1918. he asked her to marry him. "His exact words," testified Mrs. Mullen yesterday on the witness stand, were: 'Martha, will you be my wife? I said, 'Oh, this is so sud-den,' and then he told me how much he cared for me, and I told him I loved him. He said if he couldn't have me he didn't want life in Viola, recently moving to any woman. He told me how much Abingdon. He is a well built man money he was worth, said he had two 80-acre tracts of land, and stock in the Farmers' Elevator company at Viola. He also said that he had money in the bank and stock in the bank at Viola, I told some one to love me and who would appreciate me and give me daughters and several of her intimate friends of the coming mar-riage and that she had talked it over with Mr. Gardner's daughter

In October, 1919, Mrs. Mullen says, she received a letter from Mr. Gardner stating that he going to lead a quiet life and that he was through with her. That was the last she heard from him until she learned through other first wife's cousin's widow, Mrs. Lily McConnell of Chicago. said that Mr. Gardner had always been just wonderful to her and had dreamed of his doing such a thing but thought that it was all due to his family, who did not approve their marriage.
